

Integrated Rural Health Development Training Center
IRHDTC/Nepal

'I am a Child, not a Bride- Phase II' Campaign'
Travel Exhibition and Badge Distribution

Introduction

Integrated Rural Health and Development Training Center (IRHDTC), in collaboration with Parsagadhi Municipality organized a travel, art exhibition and badge distribution. This event aimed to educate and empower adolescents through fun and interactive activities. The exhibition was based on the approach of learning by playing, making it engaging and enjoyable for all participants.

Objectives

- To educate adolescents about the consequences of child marriage
- To raise awareness about bodily rights and child rights
- To encourage creative expression of thoughts through art.
- To promote a sense of ownership and responsibility among Vision Child Club members.

Outcomes

The travel and art exhibition yielded significant outcomes. Adolescents actively participated in fun games that deepened their understanding of the consequences of child marriage and enlightened them about their bodily and child rights. Through art, they creatively expressed their thoughts and emotions, using pictures to convey powerful messages. Additionally, IRHDTC's distribution of badges to Vision Child Club members instilled a sense of ownership and responsibility among participants. These badges, symbolizing membership and leadership, will be passed on to future club members, ensuring continuity and fostering a legacy of empowerment and engagement within the community. The event successfully combined education with enjoyment, leaving a lasting impact on all involved, and reinforcing the importance of interactive approaches in adolescent empowerment and advocacy.

Vision child club members participating in travel exhibition and receiving badges

The Vision Child Club leaders are happy to receive their badges